Continuation of 2. NOTE: The newly presented limitation of Claim 1, 36, and 48 constitutes a new issue requiring further search and consideration. The newly presented anodized coating formation method limitation of Claim 2 and other claims also constitutes a new issue requiring further search and consideration.

Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: In view of non-entry of applicant's amendments, applicant's arguments cannot be persuasive of patentability. With respect to applicant's traversal of the new matter rejection, it is unclear how applicant's citation to paragraphs 25 and 29 supports the breadth of the presented claims. Paragraph 29 refers to metal alloy made of yttruim and aluminum, not any metal structure.
